Hurricane Protection Manufacturer Takes Control of Workforce Management

Background

Centerline Corporation, serving the Virgin Islands for nearly 50 years with their innovative aluminum products for hurricane weather has sought out Amano for a turn-key time solution after their antiquated time clock stopped functioning properly. As with any business, time is an important factor when dealing with payroll and workforce management. To that end, Centerline needed a reliable, accurate and easy to use time clock system to help manage their payroll.

Centerline Requirements

The initial goal was to purchase an electronic time clock to record employees' time. After researching several time clocks, Robin Becker decided to upgrade to a time and attendance tracking system. "Centerline needs a time tracking system that will enable us to track employees' time more accurately, efficiently and eliminate manual calculation. In addition, this time tracking system has to interface with our QuickBooks payroll application, Becker explains."

The Amano Solution

After careful consideration, Becker decided the Time Guardian® automated time clock system was the optimal choice for Centerline's workforce management. Time Guardian® provided the integration with QuickBooks Becker needed to eliminate payroll errors, reduce payroll management and eliminate costly time cards. This easy to use time clock system also enabled Centerline to automate the collection, calculation and preparation of employee time data.

The Benefits

Since Centerline Corporation installed Time Guardian®, Becker has been completely satisfied with the progress in payroll management. Time Guardian gave Centerline the flexibility to track employees' time weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly or monthly pay periods with the use of a key pad or magnetic swipe card. It automatically totaled employees' hours, performed data polling and time synchronization. Time Guardian® also provided Centerline with numerous activity reports and unlimited number of departments, pay policies, schedules and holidays assignments. "No more keeping track of time sheets and adding up employees' hours was a huge bonus for Centerline, explains Becker."

Another bonus was the fact that Time Guardian® interfaced with QuickBooks. After many years in the payroll industry, Becker grew tired of manually inputting the employees hours in QuickBooks. With the touch of one single button, it was quick and easy for Becker to synchronize her employees' data with QuickBooks payroll. "Time Guardian® and QuickBooks saved me time by eliminating time sheets, numerous data entries and manual calculation. It also gave me the flexibility to focus my attention on other profit activities, says Becker."

Becker was also enthusiastic about the technical support Centerline received during the installation of Time Guardian. "Amano's technical support team was very helpful and knowledgeable. They generally walked me through the entire installation, making certain any technical issues were resolved."

"I've been in the payroll industry for many years, and sooner or later you are going to need a time solution. If you want a good one, call Amano."
